

Privacy Policy

The Houston Geological Society (HGS) respects your privacy and is committed to protecting the information you share with us when using our website.

Cookies and Website Use

Some pages on the HGS website use cookies, which are small text files stored on your device to help improve your browsing experience. Cookies allow our website to recognize returning visitors and provide certain site features.

Cookies do not run programs, deliver viruses, or give us access to your computer. They generally identify a device or browser rather than a specific individual. Most web browsers automatically accept cookies, but you can adjust your browser settings to decline them if you prefer. Please note that some website features may not function properly if cookies are disabled.

Communications

HGS does not send unsolicited emails related to commercial offers or advertising. We respect the privacy of our members, partners, and website visitors.

External Links

Our website may include links to external websites for your convenience. These sites are not operated or controlled by HGS, and we are not responsible for their content or privacy practices. The inclusion of a link does not imply endorsement by HGS.

Policy Updates

This privacy policy may be updated from time to time. Any changes will be posted on this page.
